

Nothing Helps as Much as a Bank Account

No other single thing that we know of will aid a man or woman in the fight for success, as much as an account in a bank like this.

To open one is easy. To make it grow, entails little sacrifice. 4 per cent is the rate we pay on savings. The many little helps we offer will be found beneficial.

Next time you're near Third South and Main Streets come in and talk with one of our officers.

YOUR MONEY

is of benefit to you in proportion to what it earns, but remember that no interest rate is large enough to compensate for insufficient safety.

For funds invested in the Secured Certificates of this company absolute safety is afforded—the Certificates are based upon real estate first mortgages, the payment of the mortgage being guaranteed by this company.

Moreover, these Certificates in addition to affording absolute safety, yield the substantial interest of 6 per cent, payable to the investor monthly, quarterly or semi-annually.

The attitude of the county commission in ignoring the abuses that should demand attention at Saltair is most mysterious, for the company runs the place to suit itself under the old Vanderbilt policy of "the public be damned," and in spite of the fact that there are a hundred things that need attention, from the antiquated rolling stock to the stench of the beach and pollution of the water, no action is being taken by those authorities who should protect the people who go there. The season will be over in a week and during the next month or two would be a very good time to put the place in shape to receive the thousands of visitors who are expected here next year on their way to California. It is to be sincerely hoped that the place will be thoroughly cleaned up before they arrive, for what should be a lasting advertisement for the city and state is now an advertisement—with the reverse English.

A poor woman, Mrs. Dolores Watts, who for many months has shown every evidence of lack of food and care, was sent to the insane asylum at Provo early in August on the statement of a sister, Crystal V. Patten, after having been examined, it is said, by Dr. Shields, without being taken to court, without being provided with counsel, having no opportunity to say anything for herself, nor did she see the judge. The poor woman, pleaded sickness and undoubtedly she is sick, and has been for a long time. She is indigent and hers is a case for the country infirmary here if she is to be sent to a public institution, but the fact that she was hurried off to the insane asylum is an outrage and the matter should be looked into at once. For years she has lived here, an aesthetic, ethereal creature, interested entirely in art and music and literature, though without the means one must have to live on who delves into art for art's sake. She has many prominent friends here, all of whom we feel sure will do their part in assisting her in her present circumstances. Irrespective of whether or not they will respond, it is up to the officials to investigate her commitment and give her a chance to prove that she is not insane.

With the county nominations completed, with the splendid ticket put up by the Republicans on Friday, the campaign will now begin in earnest, though it looks very much as though it would be a one-sided contest, with the Republicans leading from the barrier to the finish. Eighteen months of Democratic rule is about all that is ever necessary for the American people to wake up to the fact that every twenty years is often enough to make a mistake and there is little likelihood that Utah will get out of the Republican column, where it has always rightfully belonged.

That was a great speech made by F. Clement Schramm at the gathering of Rotarians in Provo on Tuesday when they were guests of the Orem road. Slimmy is always on the job, whether at No. 5 or in facing a crowd of kidders around a banquet table and his effort at Provo was one of the happiest speeches he ever made.

F. W. Paget, who will manage the Newhouse hotel, arrived during the week and has been very busy shaping his plans. Every effort will be made to open the new hostelry on New Year's Eve, and the activities of all of those concerned in seeing that the plans are carried out to the letter would indicate that there will be no postponement of the date.

"Hoots mon! what ails ye? Can ye no' stand up?" "Oh, aye—A can stand up, but A canna' stop up!"—London Opinion.

You Get "COAL VALUE" When You Buy "ABERDEEN"

The dollars you spend for coal are as good as any other dollars. They are as hard to earn. In exchange for them you are entitled to a full measure of coal value. Buy "Aberdeen" and you'll get it.

In actual fuel content this coal exceeds 95 per cent. It's clean, free from bone, dirt and slack. The big consumers, who buy coal by test, all burn "Aberdeen."

In justice to your pocketbook you should give it a trial.
